

Northwest World History Association Meetings
February 16-18, 2018
Seattle University
Student Center Building (STCN)

Friday February 16

11:00-12:30 Conference Registration STCN 100

12:30-1:00 Greeting and Introduction for Conference STCN 160

1:00-2:30

Session 1A: Migrants, Refugees and Soldiers in World History STCN 130

Moderator: Randy Souza, Seattle University

Panelists:

Migrant Political Cultures in the Era of State Control: Spaniards in France and Mexicans in the US, 1939-68, Julie Weise, University of Oregon

Refugee Stories, K.E. Hones, San Francisco School District

Exile and Return in the Ancient Mediterranean, Randy Souza, Seattle University

Session 1B: Russia and World History STCN 210

Moderator: Tom Taylor, Seattle University

Panelists:

Jan Kozłowski: The Extraordinary Life of an Ordinary Man, Tom Taylor, Seattle University

Ethnography, Psychology and Alterity in the Travels of Adelbert von Camisso, 1815,
Jonathan Reusch, University of Washington, Tacoma

Reappraising the Russian Revolution through a US lens, Bailey Titus, Seattle University

2:30-2:45 BREAK

2:45-4:15

Session 2A:Moving Pictures*STCN 130

Moderator: Barbara Traver, Washington State University, Vancouver

Panelists:

Twin Relics of Barbarism: Polygamy, Mormonism, the Philippines, and U.S. National Identity, Maryanne Rhett, Monmouth University

"Bécassine est ma cousine": Bandes Dessinées, Identity, and the Rise of a Regional Icon, Kaleb Knoblauch, University of California, Davis

Hard Travelling Heroes: Comics and the Road to National Identity, Lawrence Abrams, University of California, Davis

Session 2B:Technology and Teaching: a Forum*STCN 210

Moderator: Shane Carter, University of California, Berkeley

Panelists:

Finding Equilibrium in the Use of Classroom Technology, James Nau, Lakeside High School

Teaching World History: Digital Strategies, Monica Ketchum, Arizona Western College

Technology and Formative Assessment in the AP World History Classroom
Marc Salz, The Episcopal School of Dallas

4:15-4:30BREAK*4:30-6:00*Keynote*STCN 160

'Multicultural Britannia 1450-1700: History and Memory for a BREXIT Britain',
Dr. John Cramsie, Union College

(Talk will be approximately 60 minutes, wine and cheese reception to follow)

Saturday February 178:00-8:45*Coffee and Reception*STCN 100*8:45-10:15

Session 3A: Innovative Sources for Students
About Women who Cross Borders

STCN 130

Moderator: Hazel Hahn, Seattle University

Panelists:

Using Printed Woodcuts to Examine Early Modern Women on the Road,
Merry Wiesner-Hanks, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee

Enslaved and Free Women of Color in the Atlantic World, Sue Peabody,
Washington State University Vancouver

“Watermelons Up North: Images of Food and Travel”, Candice Goucher,
Washington State University Vancouver

Session 3B: The ‘Other’ in World History

STCN 210

Moderator: John Cramsie, Union College

Panelists:

Diplomats, Missionaries and the Urima Massacre of 1918, Bryan Gibson,
Hawai’i Pacific University

Thoreau, the Quebecois and the Famine Irish: Encounters with “Others” in Massachusetts and Lower Canada, 1845-1850, Tom Murphy, SJ, Seattle University

*Early Anglo-Indian Newspapers as Orientalist Texts: Francis Gladwin and
The Calcutta Gazette*, Tim Keirn, California State University, Long Beach

10:15-10:30

BREAK

10:30-12:00

Session 4A: Africans and Diasporas in World History

STCN 130

Moderator: Sarah Zimmerman, Western Washington University

Panelists:

Making Islam Global: Enslaved Muslims in the Americas and the Broadening of World History,
Lacy Ferrell, Central Washington University

*Goréens and World Heritage in an Era of Exclusive Nationalism and Contested
Legacies of Slavery*, Sarah Zimmerman, Western Washington University

Traveling Through Colonialities: Félix Éboué's Voyage from the Colonized in Cayenne to the Colonizer in Brazzaville, Jacqueline Woodfork, Whitman University

Session 4B: Reacting to the Past STCN 210

Moderator: Sue Peabody, Washington State University, Vancouver

Panelists:

Writing a Role-Playing Game of the Haitian Revolution, Stewart King, Mount Angel Seminary

Becoming 'the Other' Reacting to the Past Pedagogy and the World History Classroom"
Paul Otto, George Fox University

"Roll the Dice: The Story of One Instructor's Implementation of Reacting to the Past"
Aaron Whelchel, Washington State University, Vancouver

12:00-1:30 FREE TIME- Executive Lunch Meeting

1:30-2:30 What is World History? STCN 160
Open Discussion

2:30-2:45 BREAK

2:45-4:15

Session 5A: Imagining and Theorizing World History STCN 130

Moderator: Marc McLeod, Seattle University

Panelists:

Domesticating the Savage: The Manipulation of Images in Joseph-François Lafitau's Mœurs des sauvages américains of 1724, Daniel Thorburn, National University

Digitized Images of the "Spanish American War", Marc McLeod, Seattle University

Session 5B: Colonialism and Empire in World History STCN 210

Moderator: Alan Karras, University of California, Berkeley

Panelists:

"Zanzibar and the Indian Ocean: Place and Space in the Work of Abdul Sheriff",
Ken Curtis, University of California Long Beach

Tourism Itineraries and Cultural Politics in Colonial Saigon. Hazel Hahn, Seattle University

European orphans in colonial India post 1857: Child Custody, Sectarianism and Empire
Ashley Wright, Washington State University

6:30-9:00 No Host Theme Dinners

Sunday February 18

8:30-9:30 Dr. Tom Taylor- Jesuits in World History Campus Tour STCN 100

10:00-11:30

Session 6A: Tasting with Sense: Tasting and Hearing World History STCN 130

Moderator: Candice Goucher, Washington State University, Vancouver

Panelists:

Tasting the Indian Ocean, Cary McCormack, Washington State University

The Taste of New Products: Chocolate Becomes a Food, Lee Scott Theisen, UCLA

Migrations of Bodies and Sounds: Trinidad Calypso, Ghanaian Highlife and National Identity in the Black Atlantic, 1948-1962, Daniel Kotin, Washington State University

Session 6B: New Tools and Teaching Strategies for World Historians STCN 210

Moderator: Aaron Whelchel, Washington State University, Vancouver

Panelists:

Digital Tools for a Connected World History, Elizabeth Pollard, San Diego State University

Stimulating Classrooms with Simulations, Colleen Kyle, Lakeside High School

11:30-12:00 Final Gathering STCN 160